We Dedicate...

As we produce this, the second annual in the history of the Petersburg High School, we do so with many thoughts in mind. We are thinking of the sixteen years service of our Principal, Mr. Alvin W. Arnold, his guidance and influence on our lives. We are thinking too, of the many sacrifices which our parents have made for us in order that we might get an education. With these considerations in mind we deem it proper and fitting that we dedicate this annual to...

our parents and to our principal, Mr. Alvin W. Arnold.

Adminis

Man moves onward and upward step by step. This majestic course is not traveled by the speedy that falter but by those whose aims and movements are constant toward the distant goal.

As man moves up the heights of success, the lower regions are crowded, but as he goes forward the hesitant and faint in heart are left behind. When new heights are reached the scenes become less crowded, and he finds there is plenty of room far up the ascending slope. The elevated heights in living are reached only by the bold, the daring, the determined, and the courageous.

The will of man governs his destiny. Only those determined to travel the distant paths of success can hope to view the untold beauty as seen from the pinnacle of success.

Mr. R. C. Campbell, Superintendent
Chesterfield County School District
No. 4

tration

This book will be the most important book in your life. It will become more meaningful and more important to you as the years go by.

You are living in the most wonderful and most challenging age that the world has ever known. As the world focuses its attention on outer space, it will be your duty to reach out and bring our world economy and outer space into their proper perspective. I have the greatest confidence that you will be the ones to keep them in their proper perspective. You cannot do this at this plateau of your formal educational career, therefore, you must continue your preparation for the places you must fill in life.

Mr. Alvin W. Arnold, Principal

The Guidance Department

The first task of the guidance counselor is to identify those who need help and make them aware of the means by which they can get such help. Here the counselor must help the student develop a desire for change without forcing such choices of changes. The guidance counselor, Mrs. D. N. Arnold, and her secretary, Miss Blondell Newman, are shown above.

It was an obligation, an honor and a duty to have had the responsibility of serving as editor of this edition of the "Wildcat". I am proud of having had the opportunity to serve my class in this capacity; it was indeed a pleasure and a gratifying experience.

The care, time and patience devoted to this edition are symbols of our love for Petersburg High. We have done this in memory of our days spent here--days which have become a part of us, to live and go with us always and to give us inspiration.

Fellow classmates, as we go out from the portals of dear Petersburg High School let us remember to carry with us the true identity of Petersburg's Men and Women. Always wear that mark proudly. Our Alma Mater has furnished the training that will make us ready to take our rightful places in society.

To the staff and others who have contributed to the 1966 "Wildcat" I want to say thank you and may God's richest blessing shine upon you.

Class History

The history of our class is an exciting one. Since our freshman year, we have accomplished a great deal. We cherish the many exciting experiences we have gained from our Alma Mater, the Petersburg High School.

In July 1962 we began our freshman year with three sections. Our advisors were Mrs. M. Banks, Mr. A. V. Brewer, and Mr. M. D. Spears. As our class officers we had Dorothy Johnson, Wannamaker Melton, and Margie Myers as presidents; Ethel Blakeney, Alvin Myers, and Emma Evans as vice presidents; and Mary Hamilton, Margaret Miller, and Catherine Sellers as secretaries.

By July 1963, we were proud sophomores here at Petersburg with only two sections. Our advisors were Mr. A. V. Brewer and Mrs. M. Banks. As class officers we had as presidents: Dorothy Johnson and Margie Myers; vice presidents: Patricia Caudle and Emma Evans; and secretaries: Mary Hamilton and Chrisandra Williams.

We started the year 1964 as sophisticated juniors. Mr. A. V. Brewer and Mr. J. W. Kluttz were our advisors. Mr. Arnold still remained our principal. We had Dorothy Johnson and Carolyn Arnold as presidents; Patricia Caudle and Mary Seegars as vice presidents; and Mary Hamilton and Elmer Williams as secretaries. This was an especially big year for us because we were responsible for the big event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. As we began our plans Mr. A. V. Brewer was always standing by just in case we needed a strong shoulder to lean on. We chose as our theme "Under the Magnolia". And because of our perfect planning everyone had a wonderful time and all because of the juniors of 1964-65.

1965 was our really big year. We found ourselves dignified seniors. Although we lost some of our comrades by the wayside, we are still a class of forty-one standing strong with Mr. A. V. Brewer still as our advisor. This year is the biggest one and we are striving hard to receive our diplomas. This year we plan to make a tour of the various sites of the state and elsewhere. Our class officers are: president, Emma Evans; vice president, Alvin Myers; and secretary, Mary Hamilton.

Through the years many of us have participated in various school activities. This year we have ten seniors participating in basketball and ten who are members of the choir. We have really enjoyed school activities and wish we could stay on and continue to participate.

We would like to express our appreciation to all the teachers who have taught us through the years and our special thanks to Mr. A. V. Brewer who has stood by us and Mr. A. W. Arnold who has been our principal during our four years here at Petersburg.

Historian

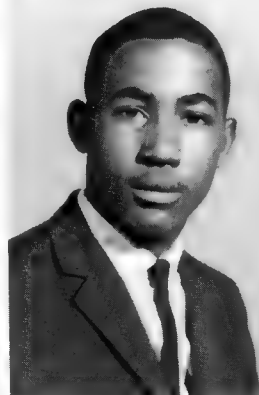

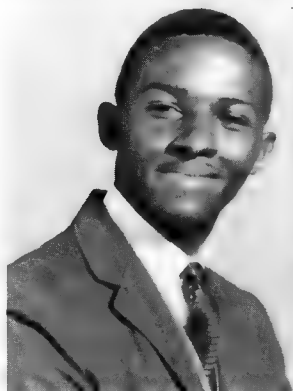

ARNOLD, CAROLYN
A man must have a certain amount of intelligent ignorance to get anywhere.

AUSTIN, MARGIE
Preparedness is always rewarded.

BAKER, KENNETH
It is better to be slow and right than to be fast and wrong.

BAKER, TONY
If you have knowledge, let others light their candles by it.

Seniors

BLACKWELL, ARON
I must reach the goal for which I strive.

BLAKENEY, ETHEL
When one wants to learn, he learns.

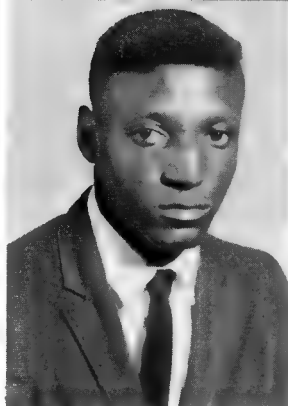

BLAKENEY, MAE ELLIS
Knowledge bloweth up, but charity buildeth up.

BLAKENEY, MAGGIE
He who knows nothing has no cares,
He who knows much has many cares.

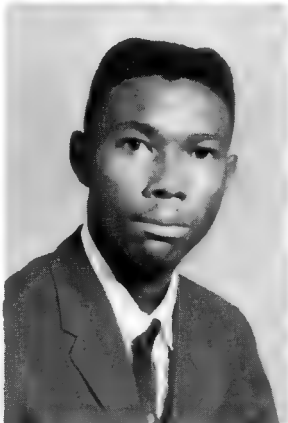

BRACY, LEROY
Who think themselves most wise are greatest fools.

CHAMBERS, LUTHER Hope for the best, but prepare for the worst.

CLARK, LAVEN
We know what we are, but know not what we may be.

CRAWFORD, JAMES
He who knows not and knows not he knows not, he is a fool--shun him.

EVANS, EMMA JEAN
It is always in season for old men to learn.

FUNDERBURK, JAMES
If you are a lover of instruction, you will be well instructed.

Seniors

GASKIN, PETE
They always talk who never think.

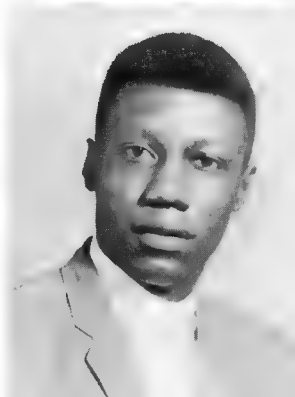

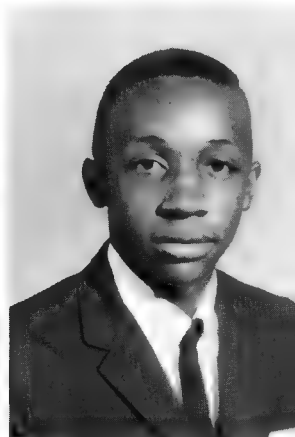

HAMILTON, MARY
Where ignorance is bliss, 'Tis folly to be wise.

INGRAM, ROBERT Give the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you.

JOHNSON, JAMES
Everything comes if a man will only wait.

LOCKHART, MARGIE
It is costly wisdom that is bought by experience.

LOWERY, DAVID
The greatest of faults, I should say, is to be conscious of none.

MELTON, WANNMAKER
It's better to have a good education and never need it, than to need it and not have it.

MILLER, DELOIS
He is great who is what he is from Nature, and who never reminds us of others.

MILLER, MARGARET
What heart can think, or tongue express, The harm that groweth of idleness?

MILLER, MINNIE PEARL
Be ignorance thy choice, where knowledge leads to woe.

Seniors

MILLER, SAMUEL
There is no virtue so truly great and godlike as justice.

MOORE, CELTUS
A wise man never refuses anything to necessity.

MUNGO, PERRY
Omission to do what is necessary Seals a commission to a blank of danger.

MYERS, ALVIN
It is nothing to know something unless someone else knows that you know.

MYERS, LAVON
He is well paid that is well satisfied.

MYERS, MARGIE
It is much easier to be critical than to be correct.

NICHOLSON, BARBARA
The future holds its own tomorrow.

ROBINSON, HAZEL
Defeat isn't bitter if you don't swallow it.

ROBINSON, JOAN E.
Imagination is the air of mind.

SEEGARS, MARY F.
An ounce of mirth is worth a pound of sorrow.

SELLERS, CATHERINE
What you see depends largely upon what you are looking for.

Seniors

SOWELL, BESSIE
When in doubt, go forward.

SOWELL, MAE RUTH
Strengthen me by sympathizing with my strength not my weakness.

TRUESDALE, FRANK
Better the feet slip than the tongue.

The Student Council is the chief organization on the campus. The students learn to exercise their democratic rights by electing the officers and representatives who work in their interest. The council endeavors to promote understanding between the administration and the student body. They work hard to plan social and educational affairs that interest the student body. The officers of the council are shown at the left. They are from LEFT TO RIGHT: Emma Evans, Vice-President; Betty Choplin, Chaplain; Doris Laney, Reporter; Billy Threatt, President; Margie Myers, Asst. Secretary; Vickie Miller, Secretary; and Linda Clyburn, Business Manager. STANDING, Mrs. M. L. Gaines, Advisor.
